The special committee of citizens appointed to investigate the fair cost of production of milk furnished in the City of Marquette made a report, in writing, finding that at the present prices of feeds, labor and over-head expenses, the fair cost to produce a quart of milk is $12\frac{1}{2}\%$, and that it costs from six cents to eight cents per quart to distribute milk under the present methods; also that lower costs incident to summer feeding, which makes milk production cheaper, the price to consumer should drop accordingly.

Moved by Commissioner Sherman, supported by Commissioner Werner, and adopted, that the thanks of the Commission are due and are hereby tendered the committee consisting of Messrs. L. R. Yeas- Commissioners Pearce, Sherman, Sink and Werner, and Mayor Begole.

Superintendent W.J. Johnston submitted to the Commission the profile, plans and reports concerning the laying and inspection of the water works intake.

Moved by Commissioner Werner, supported by Commissioner Sink, and adopted, that owing to misrepresentations of facts by the Marquette Chronicle regarding our water supply, the health department be instructed to make daily test of raw and treated water, the same to be kept on file in the office of the water department; and that as to the creosote taste in the water, the management of the C.C. business with dispatch and thoroughness.

I would be false to my feelings if I did not say to you that it gives me genuine pleasure to stand here tonight as the mayor-elect. I deem it both an honor and a privilege to serve this city as its mayor. I assume the duties of the office with a determination to promote in every possible way the highest welfare of Marquette and all its people. I believe that the city's business should be conducted by sound business methods, that the public health should be most carefully guarded, that the policing of the city should be thoroughly and faithfully performed, and that every service rendered by the city government should be performed in the best possible way. I believe that we should guard at all times against municipal extravagance and waste. Economy should never be regarded as a virtue which we may safely outgrow.

The police department will be under my supervision. I would like to take this opportunity to say most emphatically that I believe in law enforcement. I want to say to you, who are here tonight, and to all the people of Marquette, that I shall do all in my power to see that the police department performs its duties thoroughly and well. I feel confident that I can assure you that the men who serve in this department will perform their duties without fear or evasion. I have always felt that it is the duty of officers of the law to search out wrong doing courageously and diligently.

I believe in the upbuilding of Marquette. To this end new industries should be encouraged. It is a great encouragement to new enterprises to know that we are able to furnish electric power at a low cost, that we are striving to the utmost to conduct our city government on a high plane of business efficiency, that we are endeavoring to get a dollar's worth of value for every dollar expended, and that we are aiming at all times to keep our city an attractive one in which to live. Marquette should continue to be a leader among progressive cities.

The repeated expressions of good wishes for my success as mayor have been most gratifying. I feel that the people of Marquette are solidly behind me. The words of confidence that have been spoken to me will linger long in my memory and will spur me on to my best endeavor. I shall strive to my utmost to be loyal to the trust that has been reposed in me and courageous in the performance of every duty that devolves upon me to perform. When I step out of this office I want no man to be able to justly say that I have lacked the courage to do my duty. I expect to have the wisdom of my judgment questioned, but I sincerely trust that no one will ever challenge my high purposes in striving to do my part in maintaining for this splendid city of ours a high standard of municipal government. You may count upon it that whatever I do I shall do in a spirit of friendliness. But as occasions arise when duty calls upon me to do things which may arouse criticism, I shall not hesitate.

By a majority vote of approximately 50,000 the state of Michigan adopted the equal suffrage amendment voted upon at the general election held November 5. I take pleasure in welcoming the women of Marquette to the privileges and duties of voters.
