Dr. Harden-Leaving

The Upper Peninsula is going to lose the services of a man who has been long considered the leader of the state's Republican party. Dr. Harden has been selected as the Republican candidate for governor of Michigan.

James Marlow:

Supreme Court Review

WASHINGTON (AP) - This is the last of the Supreme Court's most sensational years.

- The court ruled that the death penalty is unconstitutional.
- The court held that the government cannot force a person to testify against himself.
- The court ruled that the government cannot search a person's home without a warrant.
- The court ruled that the government cannot discriminate against a person based on race.
- The court ruled that the government cannot discriminate against a person based on sex.

The court's decisions have had a profound impact on American society and have set new precedents for the future of the law.

The Eleventh Hour

Mideast Questions

WASHINGTON—Two great unanswered questions confront the Middle Eastern leaders: Can they work together to solve the conflict over the Middle East? Can they prevent another war?

- One must assume that this kind of transition is natural in the Middle East because it has been occurring for centuries. But the Middle East is a land of history, and the leaders must be able to understand the complexities of the region.
- One must assume that this kind of transition is natural in the Middle East because it has been occurring for centuries. But the Middle East is a land of history, and the leaders must be able to understand the complexities of the region.

- One must assume that this kind of transition is natural in the Middle East because it has been occurring for centuries. But the Middle East is a land of history, and the leaders must be able to understand the complexities of the region.
- One must assume that this kind of transition is natural in the Middle East because it has been occurring for centuries. But the Middle East is a land of history, and the leaders must be able to understand the complexities of the region.
- One must assume that this kind of transition is natural in the Middle East because it has been occurring for centuries. But the Middle East is a land of history, and the leaders must be able to understand the complexities of the region.