

OH-107

PHILOMINA, Giorgetti (conducted in Hancock, MI on 2/18/83)

Indexed by: Faye A. Oja

Indexed July 20, 1983

Summary: Discusses the Italians in Hancock. Goes into some detail about the macaroni factory her husband started.

Index	Subject
000-005	Where in Italy she was born
005-021	What life was like in Italy
021-033	Why her father came to America
033-039	Who she came over with and how old she was
039-047	Her boat trip over on the Savoy
047-063	Her reactions to New York
063-069	What she did when she first arrived here
069-076	Talking about her first husband
076-095	Talking about her first husband starting the macaroni factory
095-101	Talking about her driving a car in her old age
101-135	The different kinds of macaroni they made in the factory
135-169	When they stopped making macaroni
169-193	Talking about her garden after her husband died
193-214	Other women in the old days working businesses
214-239	Her attitude about the Hancock area when she first came over
239-250	Organizations for Italian women in Hancock
250-269	Who bought spaghetti from her
269-294	How she delivered her products
294-308	Who her competition was
308-359	The machine she used for making macaroni
359-394	The truck they had to deliver the macaroni
394-412	Folklore medicine she used

Page 2
OH-107
PHILOMINA, Giorgetti

Index	Subject
000-006	Who she stayed with when she first came over
006-028	Why the rest of her family did not come to America
028-036	Talking about who she stayed with when she first came over
036-040	Where the Italians in the area came from
040-050	Talking about other Italians in the area
050-064	Discussing the other Italian stores in Hancock
064-087	Discussing the stone mason
087-092	Discussing other Italian neighbors
092-127	Talking about Italian bars and restaurants