DURING THE YEAR NOTHING WAS DONE AT THE NORTH JACKSON EXCEPT the tearing down of the old engine house opposite Cvr Street. This was a dilapidated structure. The material in the building was sold to a Finn so that he dismantling cost nothing to the Company.

On August 4th a portion of the State Constabulary which had been located at Bessemer moved to Magonce on account of threatened labor trouble from the I. W. W. The North Jackson office was fitted up as a barracks. It will accommodate 50 men very comfortably. The large Jackson barn was repaired and is now used by the Constabulary as a stable.
