

McClellan Gets Summer Grant

Dr. Robert McClellan, assistant professor in the department of history at Northern Michigan University, has been selected to receive a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to undertake studies during the coming summer.

The topic of McClellan's study is "Racial Attitudes and Human Rights in Recent American Foreign Policy."

McClellan will conduct his research work at the Library of Congress and the National Archives in Washington, D.C., as well as mid-western libraries and at Harvard
