Shiras Hill Problem

One stormy day last week, a large truck being driven south down Shiras Hill into Marquette began to jackknife and skidded into the opposite traffic lane, striking a car that was being driven up the hill. Drivers of both vehicles were injured, and traffic along busy U. S. 41-M-28 was tied up while attempts were made to remove the tractor-trailer truck from the highway.

The incident was not unusual. Even in summer under the best of driving conditions large trucks are a problem on Shiras Hill. They have a difficult time climb-

Business Mirror: Construction Industry In Torpid State

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the construction industry mired in trouble or is it an enterprise modernizing itself to participate in the great building boom expected during the 1970s?

The answer may depend upon your point of view, because both aspects of the question are now visible.

The worst is described in a new study by the National In-

Answers Goodman Letter

Sir: Reference to your issue of Jan. 22, Letters to the Editor, I submit the following:

I appreciate Mr. James Goodman's coy use of the subjunctive to call attention to Northern's problems. However, if he happens to have a "magnanimous" amount of time available to him I suggest he look up the meaning of the word and perhaps adjust his outlook accordingly. His solecism will then be overlooked.
